WOMEN SUFFRAGISTS

Make Noisy Demonstration In the Streets of London.

NEW METHOD OF PROTEST

They Are Indignant that Their Demands to Be Allowed to Vote Were Ignored by Parliament and that King Made No Mention of It in Speech.

London, Jan. 31.—Having failed to reach King Edward Wednesday during the ceremonies of the opening of parliament, and as the house of commons is effectively barred against them, the women suffragists of England Thursday morning adopted a new method of protesting against the fact that his majesty, in his speech from the throne made no mention of their demands to be permitted to vote.

The militant members of the organization formed themselves into several committees, which, at the same hour Thursday, visited the homes of the various members of the cabinet for the purpose of asking them to use their influence to have the question of women's suffrage settled at this session. As none of the ministers would see them, the women demonstrated by ringing doorbells and delivering addresses from doorsteps. The police were unprepared for this course of action, and noisy scenes were witnessed on several of the fashionable thoroughfares of London.

The women eventually were dispersed after several arrests had been made.

GEORGIAN IS NAMED.

L. M. Heard Will Investigate Conditions as Regards Immigration.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—The appointment of L. M. Heard, of Elberton, as head of the corps to investigate conditions in the southern states, with reference to immigration, has been decided upon.

In the last congress an appropriation of $25,000 was made for the purpose if defraying the expense of a commission which was charged with investigating conditions at home and abroad in their bearing upon the subject of immigration. They decided to organize a force to conduct this inquiry at home under the direction of the department of commerce and labor. Mr. Heard will have under him a corps of five or six men. His salary will be $3,000. The work will probably take a year.

THOUGHT HE WAS HAUNTED.

Believing He Saw Daughter's Wraith, Drug Clerk Took Fatal Dose.

New York, Jan. 31.—Believing that he had seen an apparition of his daughter and that this foretold the death of the nine-year-old girl suffering from scarlet fever, Alfred Moeller, a Brooklyn drug clerk, took an overdose of morphine Wednesday and died in a hotel. Moeller is said to have seen the haunting vision Sunday evening. He left home on Monday and nothing more was heard of him until he was found dying in the hotel.

Autoists Must "Look Out."

Chicago, Jan. 31.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Los Angeles, Calif., says that a decision by the district court of appeals declare in effect that automobilists are obliged to look out for pedestrians and keep from running them down and that pedestrians cannot be charged with contributory negligence if they do not keep out of the way of automobiles. The decision confirms a judgment for $7,500 damages awarded Stanley King, who had been run down by the automobile of E. K. Green.

Honors John C. Calhoun.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 30.—The memory of John C. Calhoun was further perpetuated when the state supreme court handed down a decision sustaining the recent election for a new county composed of parts of Orangeburg and Lexington counties, to be known as Calhoun county with St. Matthews as the county seat.

A HARD JOB TO FILL.

Chinese Paper In New York Having a Hard Time Getting Compositors.

New York, Jan. 31.—There is trouble in the office of the Chinese Reform News, the only paper printed in Chinese in New York.

Some time ago some of the compositors of the paper left their jobs and now the immigration authorities have refused to allow new compositors imported from China to enter the country. Their coming would, it is claimed, violate both the exclusion and the contract labor laws.

Setting type on a Chinese newspaper is not an easy job, and even in China compositors are difficult to obtain. In an ordinary ewspaper several thousand characters are used and it is, of course, hopeless to expect that any but a Chinaman, and a well educated Chinaman at that, can ever fill the position.

The editor of the paper is appealing to the authorities to allow his men entrance to the country and hopes that some loophole in the law may be found.

PRAYER APPLAUDED.

Unusual Incident Occurred in House of Representatives.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The most unusual incident of applauding the prayer of the chaplain occurred in the house of representatives Wednesday. The chaplain barely had concluded when handclapping and laughter were heard from various directions. The prayer ran:

"Good Lard, deliver us, we beseech Thee, from the jingo, the demagogue, the bigot and all other undesirable citizens, and give us instead the patriot, the statesman, the broad-minded, generous-hearted, manly man, that Thy kingdom come and Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven, for Christ's sake, Amen."

HAD DEPOSITS AT BANK.

Consternation Among the Singers of Metropolitan Opera Company.

New York, Jan. 31.—Many of the singers of the Metropolitan Opera company, it is said, had deposits in the New Amsterdam National bank, which was taken over by the comptroller of the currency Wednesday night. The bank is in the opera house building and was therefore convenient for the singers.

Among the depositors, it is reported, is Enrico Caruso, the tenor, who is said to have had $4,000 on deposit at the bank. When the news of the closing of the bank was told at the opera house, there was consternation among the singers, but the performance was not delayed.

HIS SON ASSUMES CHARGE.

Calvin Wells Relinquishes Control of Philadelphia Press.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 31.—The announcement is made here that Calvin S. Wells, of Pittsburg, has relinquished control of the Philadelphia Press to his son, Benjamin G. Wells, who has been secretary and treasurer of the company.

Calvin Wells was president of the Press company for many years. He is president of the Pittsburg Forge and Iron company, and interested in various other enterprises in this city.

Reese May Get Bishopric.

Augusta, Ga., Jan. 31.—There is a growing opinion among the well informed Episcopalians of this city that the convention of the diocese of Georgia to meet here early in May, will elect Dr. F. F. Reese, of St. Charles church, Nashville, for the bishopric. Dr. James R. Winchester, of Memphis, is also mentioned, but the evidence at present inclines in favor of Dr. Reese. He was formerly a resident of Georgia.

Ordered Before Commission.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 31.—The Tennessee railroad commission has issued an order directing Presidents M. H. Smith of the Louisville and Nashville, J. W. Thomas, of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, and J. T. Harahan, of the Illinois Central to appear before that body Feb. 14 for the purpose of further considering the question of reducing railroad passenger rates in Tennessee.

FAMOUS BOOTBLACK STAND

'Tis Said that $1,619 Was Collected from State for This Stand, When the Sub-Contractor who Supplied It Received Only $125.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 31.—The now famous bootblack stand for the senate lavatory supplied by Contractor John H. Sanderson, of Philadelphia, one of the defendants in the state capitol conspiracy suits on trial in the Dauphin county court, was offered in evidence by the commonwealth Thursday.

Sanderson collected $1,619 from the state for this stand, and paid the subcontractor, by whom it was supplied, $125.

Photographs of the rostrums of the senate and house caucus rooms, for which the state paid Sanderson $90,748 and for which he paid the subcontractor $2,060, were also offered in evidence.

Fred H. Potter and Howard Kroehl, of the audit company of New York, were called by the commonwealth to establish the measurements of the sofas, clothes trees and tables produced before the jury. All of this furniture was supplied by Sanderson at the rate of $18.40 "per foot" and according to the commonwealth he was paid for certain articles at the rate of three times the actual measurement.

Architect Joseph M. Huston, who has secured a separate trial, has been subpoenaed as a witness for his co-defendants, former Auditor General Snyder, former State Treasurer Mathues, James M. Shumaker, former superintendent of grounds and buildings, and Sanderson, but may not be called.

The feeling against the architect on the part of his four co-defendants grows more bitter as the trial proceeds and interesting developments are expected to result.

INCENDIARIES' WORK.

Two Large Tobacco Barns Are Burned in State of Tennessee.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 31.—Wednesday night, near Fredonia, in Montgomery county, Tenn., two large tobacco barns on the farm of W. E. Wall were set on fire by unknown parties and totally destroyed. The barns contained no tobacco.

Wall is not a member of the Dark Tobacco Growers' association, and last summer his general merchandise store was burned after a number of threats had been received warning him to join the association. His plant beds were also scraped and the indictment of several prominent citizens followed, but they were acquitted at the trial last month.

BLOODHOUNDS BRING $300 EACH.

They Will Be Used in Tracking Criminals in Canal Zone.

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 31.—The first of a number of bloodhounds to be used in tracking criminals in the Panama canal zone were purchased here by Lieutenant Colonel Stevens, chief quartermaster of the department of Texas. The dogs brought $300 each. Thus far the government has found no suitable dogs except in San Antonio.

Exhaustive tests have been made here with the dogs, a number of soldiers trailing for miles out from Fort Sam Houston, crossing streams and going through herds of cattle in the endeavor to lose the trail for the dogs.

Savannah to Invite Roosevelt.

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 31.—Headed by William B. Stillwell, president of the Savannah board of trade, thirteen prominent business men of Savannah left Wednesday for Washington, where they go to invite President Roosevelt, the members of the cabinet, the vice president, the speaker of the house and others to be in Savannah in April to attend the River Jubilee of the board of trade.

NEGRO ATTACKED GIRL.

Posse and Bloodhounds In Richmond County on His Trail.

Augusta, Ga., Jan. 31.—Tuesday a negro attacked Flora Cawley, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Sam Cawley, a farmer, who lives near Bath, in this county, and the girl was left unconscious in her home. The mother of the girl is dead, and she keeps the house for the family.

While her father was off at work and she was at home with her young brother, a negro entered the home, bound the lad hand and foot, and attacked the girl. The girl was not criminally asaulted.

After knocking her down with a stick, the negro was frightened off.

County Bailiffs Stratford and Gay, together with a posse, are scouring the country in an effort to catch the negro. Bloodhounds are on the trail and a lynching is imminent if the right negro is caught.

The brother of the girl described the negro, and it is thought he came from a sawmill which is in operation a mile away from the home.

REIMBURSE CONFEDERATES.

Congressman Howard's Bill Appropriates $50,000.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—Representative Howard has introduced a bill providing for an appropriation of $50,000 to reimburse the confederate soldiers who were paroled in 1865 and under the terms of their parole were permitted to keep their horses, saddles and side arms, but had these accoutrements taken from them before they reached home.

A similar bill was passed in February, 1902, but the amount appropriated did not cover the claims of all the old soldiers who suffered by unjust depredations of federal troops.

Representative Edwards introduced a bill providing for an emergency issue of $1,000,000 in greenbacks.

LOUISIANA PRIMARY.

Certain That Sanders Wins for Governor—Charges of Fraud Made.

New Orleans, Jan. 31.—Returns counted up to a late hour Wednesday made Sanders' victory certain. The indications were, however, that he won principally on the plurality that New Orleans gave him. No definite figures were received up to midnight on the results for other state offices.

The official count will not be known for possibly two days. The Wilkinson campaign managers, it is said, have made charges of fraud and claimed that they would be able to throw out enough ballots counted for Sanders in the New Orleans precincts to make the race very even.

NUNS FOUGHT FIRE.

Extinguished Blaze Before Arrival of the Fire Department.

New York, Jan. 31.—Acting quickly in an emergency the nuns of the Academy of the Sacred Heart on Aqueduct avenue, the Bronx, saved their new chapel from being destroyed by fire Wednesday night.

Workmen left some oiled rags in a corner of the chapel, now under construction alongside the main building of the academy. When these caught fire in some way an alarm was turned in, but the nuns, not waiting for the firemen, quickly formed a bucket brigade and put the fire out with but slight damage before the fire company arrived.

Clay to Announce.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—Senator Clay will issue his formal announcement as a candidate for reelection to the United States senate in a few days, it is said. While this announcement has been delayed for some time, Senator Clay is none the less a candidate. For several months he has been flooding the state with personal letters and campaign literature, and the replies which he has received are very gratifying to him.

Sails in Detective's Charge.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 31.—The Oregonian says that Horace G. McKinley, convicted of stealing government land, and who escaped from this country to the Orient while awaiting sentence, has sailed from Hong Kong for Portland in charge of a detective.

Judge Wins Victory In Campaign Against Sunday Labor.

CASE AT KANSAS CITY, MO.

Indictment of Two Thousand Stage Folk, Theatrical Managers and Others in Violation of the Sunday Law—Injunction Sought Denied.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 31.—Judge Smith McPherson, in the United States district court here, has handed down a decision declining to interfere with the county officials of this county in the enforcement of the Missouri statute making unnecessary labor on Sunday a misdemeanor.

The decision was rendered in a case brought in the name of Nannie O'Neill, the actress, and the local theaters, who sought to permanently enjoin the county grand jury from indicting them.

The decision is a victory for Judge William H. Wallace, of the criminal court, who in his campaign against Sunday labor, has caused the indictment of 2,000 stage folk and theatrical managers and attaches, as well as hundreds connected with the performances in violation of the Sunday law. None of the cases has come to trial, the theatrical managers, who have furnished bonds in the various cases, having declined an offer of Judge Wallace to bring about a test case in the lower courts.

The complainant's last Saturday secured a temporary injunction restraining the grand jury from indicting them. They sought a permanent injunction, which was Thursday denied by Judge McPherson.

The complainants alleged that Judge Wallace personally selected the jury in violation of the law. This Judge Wallace denied.

Judge McPherson says that the proper course for the complainants is to seek trial in the criminal court and the ntake an appeal to the state supreme court, and finally to the supreme court of the United States.

CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE.

Coroner's Jury Makes Report on Boyertown Theater Fire.

Boyertown, Pa., Jan. 31.—The coroner's jury, which has been investigating the disastrous fire at Rhoad's opera house, in which 169 persons lost their lives, has returned a verdict. The verdict, in part, is as follows:

"We are of the opinion that Mrs. Monroe and the deputy factory inspector are largely responsible for the disaster on account of negligence. We request the prosecuting attorney of Berks county to arrest, and, if possible, convict Mrs. Monroe, owner of the stereopticon machine, and Harry McC. Ehrhard, the deputy factory inspector, on the charge of criminal negligence."

Protest from Organized Labor.

Atlanta, Jan. 31.—Organized labor held a meeting Wednesday night at the hall of the Atlanta Federation of Trades, which resulted in resolutions being adopted calling upon the city council of Atlanta not to make any reduction in the wages of the city's employees. Several speeches were made by prominent local unionists and a set of resolutions adopted whereby they demand that their protest be granted.

Fired Gun With Pitchfork.

Covington, Ga., Jan. 31.—Sidney Piper committed suicide near Loquin, in this county, Wednesday, by placing a shotgun in the forks of a tree and discharging the load with a pitchfork. His head was blown off. He was about twenty-five years of age, and leaves a wife and two children. No cause is known.

Made Italian Consul.

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 31.—Senor Mose Cafeiro has received credentials appointing him Italian consul at this place. This is the first Italian consulate to be established here. Senor Cafeiro is also consular representative of Cuba.

RETURNED FROM THE KEYS.

Messrs Cummer, Steckert and Chazell Did Not Make Soundings.

W. E. Cummer of Jacksonville, president of the Cummer Lumber Company, W. R. Steckert of this city, land commissioner, and L. R. Chazell, general superintendent of the phosphate department of the Cummer Company, have returned from Cedar Key, where they have been on an important mission.

As stated in The Sun of recent issue, these gentlemen went to Cedar Key with the intention of taking a steamer up the Suwannee river for the purpose of taking soundings, with a view of establishing a lighter or tow service from Wannee, in the western section of this county, down the river to the Gulf, for the purpose of transporting phosphate to steamers and transferring it for export to foreign countries, instead of making the long haul by rail from the mines to Jacksonville or Fernandina, as has been the case heretofore, and is yet being practiced, at great expense to the miners.

Upon reaching Cedar Key Messrs. Cummer, Steckert and Chazell were confronted with very disagreeable and unfavorable conditions, hence abandoned the project for the present. They secured the Government charts, however, and were very well satisfied with the soundings as reported by them. They expect to return to Cedar Key in a short time, when they will make a personal investigation.

DEATH OF OLD SLAVE.

Aunt Lucy Davis Passed Away Suddenly at Rochelle Thursday.

Aunt Lucy Davis, seventy years of age, and one of the old slaves of picturesque history, died suddenly at her home in Rochelle Thursday afternoon at a late hour.

Aunt Lucy, as she has been familiarly known for many years, was a most affectionate and loyal character. She was at the close of the Civil War the property of General E. A. Perry, who afterwards served his State as Governor, but who has been dead several years.

Deceased was very active at the time of her death, notwithstanding her advanced age. She did not complain of feeling badly Thursday, but late in the afternoon, while at her home, suddenly fell, and expired in a few moments.

Aunt Lucy was well known and highly esteemed by everyone in the Rochelle district, irrespective of color. She was possessed of that old-time loyal disposition which characterized the negro of slavery time, and her white friends never forsook her.

Deceased is survived by several children and grand-children.

The funeral was held at Rochelle Friday, and was largely attended by both white and colored people, who went to show their last mark of respect for the deceased.

Several reports were submitted, all of which proved satisfactory, after which the meeting adjourned.

The ladies of the association served tea after the meeting, and the proceeds will be devoted to the library.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 31.—The cold wave still hovers over the northwest, but the temperature has abated somewhat since Wednesday. The coldest place in the northwest, according to reports received by the forecast officials, is Escambia, Mich., which reported 12 below zero.

London, Jan. 31—The flag of the American man-of war Chesapeake, captured in the fight with the British ship Shannon in 1813, was put up at auction in this city Thursday and sold for $4,250 to a dealer named Partridge. It is reported that Partridge acted for Cornelius Vanderbilt.

The Dandy Dixie Minstrels

Is a real colored minstrel variety show. It is the real thing and has set a standard for Simon-pure, old-time negro minstrelsy that puts it in a class by itself. It has no competitors, for it is absolutely alone, unequalled and unrivaled, and this expression is shared by the dramatic writers in all the cities where the Dandy Dixie Minstrels have thus far presented their inimitable performance. The New York Herald, for instance, declares that it is unquestionably the best negro minstrel ever seen in this country; The New Orleans Picayune declares that it is the very best colored minstrel organization that has ever appeared in the Crescent City.

The Dallas Daily Times-Herald in reviewing the first performance in that city said: "The house was packed, the applause was vociferous from the start. All the old-time darky dances with new-time frills were given by the light-stepping sons of Africanus. Burnt-cork minstrelsy is all right, but these minstrels were made black by the brush of Nature, are close to first place as amusement and fun creators."

The Dandy Dixie Minstrels will appear at the opera house tonight.

HIGH SPRINGS NEWS.

Entertaining Lecture by Dr. Yocum. Pleasant Social Events.

High Springs, Jan. 31.—On last Friday night the people of High Springs were accorded the great pleasure of hearing Dr. W. F. Yocum, of the State University, deliver a lecture in the auditorium of the school building. His subject was "The Man in the Moon," and he handled it in an interesting and scholarly manner. It is the earnest desire of many of our towns-people to have him repeat it at an early date.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. P. P. Wood entertained the New Century Club. After the study for the day had been finished a social program ensued, which was much enjoyed. The music rendered by Mrs. H. McL. Grady and Mrs. H. J. Peterman added greatly to the pleasure of the occasion. The alphabet game was played and Mrs. G. E. Gramling won the first price. Those present were Mrs. E. Blackshear, Mrs. G. E. Gramling, Mrs. H. J. Peterman, Mrs. Jas. Collar, Mrs. H. McL. Grady, Mrs. H. C. Stevens, Mrs. Annie Sewell, Mrs. A. J. Moore, Mrs. Gordon Hunter, Mrs. Harry McDonald, Miss Muriel Futch, Miss Annie Lou Hodges, Mrs. Jas. Paul, Mrs. R. B. Bush, Mrs. M. D. Morrison, Mrs. J. H. Sails, Mrs. Cora Pedrick.

On Tuesday Mr. H. C. Stevens and family moved to Lakeland. Much regret is expressed at their departure, but their many friends wish them unbounded success in their new home.

Little Ruth, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Reynolds, died on the 25th and was buried on the 26th of January. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

On Sunday night the fire alarm was sounded, and it was discovered that the oil house at the A. C. L. shops was in flames. It was caused by an overturned lantern. Mr. Rob. McDonald had his face and hands badly burned in trying to extinguish the flames.

Mrs. G. E. Gramling entertained the club ladies recently in a most charming manner. Those who enjoyed her hospitality were Mrs. M. P. Summers, Mrs. E. Blackshear, Mrs. P. P. Wood, Mrs. H. J. Peterman, Mrs. A. J. Moore, Mrs. J. H. Sails, Mrs. H. McL. Grady Mrs. Jas. Paul, Miss Annie Lou Hodges, Mrs. Annie Sewell, Mrs. R. B. Bush.

Prominent Visitor Here.

Among the visitors to Gainesville Friday was Col. J. Levi Lee of Live Oak, a successful attorney of that city, and one of the most popular of the younger men of Suwannee.

Col. Lee as a rule stays at home, because he enjoys a fine practice, and has about all he can do in his office and court practice there; but he will slip away occasionally, when he finds an excuse for business on the outside, and came here to consult with the land office officials on certain matters.

"We have a good town up at Live Oak," remarked Col. Lee, as he swelled up like a porpoise, to use the expression (for all Live Oak people swell when they begin talking about their home), "and we are coming along finely, but I note with a great deal of pleasure that Gainesville is growing also. We Live Oak folks always did like Gainesville and Gainesville people, and I can assure you, in behalf of the people of Live Oak, that we rejoice with you in your prosperity."

Col. Lee left in the afternoon, having concluded his duties here.

The editor of The Memphis (Tenn.) Times writes: "In my opinion Foley's Honey and Tar is the best remedy for coughs, colds and lung trouble, and to my own personal knowledge Foley's Honey and Tar has accomplished many permanent cures that have been little short of marvelous." A NEW INDUSTRY.

Coca-Cola Bottling Works to Begin Operation in Gainesville.

The march of progress continues in Gainesville, not only in commercial but industrial lines as well.

The latest acquisition to the manufacturing enterprises in this city is a branch of the Coca-Cola Company, which will be located at 214 West Main street S. The machinery has already been installed, and the new industry expects to begin operation today.

This enterprise, which will give employment to quite a force, is under the management of W. G. Boltin, a bottling man of long experience. He will have associated with him J. F. Haigley, another young man experienced in the business, who will act as secretary and treasurer of the new concern.

While it is the purpose of the new concern to push Coca-Cola, they will also manufacture various kinds of soda water, and will no doubt enjoy a fine trade throughout this section of the State as the "cold-drink fad" has become a popular one here.

Mr. Boltin and his interesting family will be welcomed to Gainesville as residents, as will also Mr. Haigley.

Coroner's Jury in Case of Elias Sapp's Murder Making Good Investigation.

The jury in the case of the murder of Elias Sapp of Jonesville, who was waylaid and murdered near Newberry Monday night, has not yet made a report.

The Sun was in telephone communication with parties in Newberry, who furnished this information. The jury is making a thorough investigation, and will sift the tragedy and its connection down to the bottom.

Jernigan—Maddox.

A. D. Jernigan, a well-known and popular young man of this city, and Miss Nina Maddox, an accomplished young lady of Milligan, were married at the home of the bride's parents at Milligan on Tuesday, January 28. The wedding was a quiet one, only members of the family of the bride and a few relatives and intimate friends being present.

Shortly after the ceremony the happy couple left for New Orleans and other points on a bridal tour. They expect to arrive in this city in a few days and will make their future home here.

The groom is one of Gainesville's leading young business men, being the junior member of the firm of I. A. Jernigan & Son, jewelers. He was reared in this city, and is quite popular among the young people.

Miss Maddox is also well known here. She resided in this city for several years, and her numerous friends will be delighted to learn that she will return here and make this her home.

Friends of the young couple extend heartiest congratulations.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of

The Well Informed of the World.

A vast fund of personal knowledge is really essential to the achievement of the highest excellence in any field of human effort.

A Knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the Well Informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of—Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

There will be early mass at 7 o'clock a. m., the last mass being held at 10 o'clock a. m., when the Bishop will deliver the discourse. The Catholic church will no doubt be crowded upon this occasion, as Bishop Kenney is a fine and impressive speaker.

Bishop Kenney is very much pleased over the rapid growth of the city and the church here.

The Philathea class composed of the young ladies of the Sunday school, have kindly consented to furnish the music for tomorrow, which is an assurance of a rare treat.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propogates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

INFLUENCE OF ADVERTISING.

Has it occurred to you that the recent "panic" in America might have had far more disastrous results than it did have for the store—but for the big and significant and hope-making fact that the American people are profoundly influenced by newspaper advertising?

The majority of our merchants realized that to stem the tide of "scare" which was carrying so many people away, advertising must play its deciding part; stores must not only make price-concessions which would appeal to the thrift-instincts of the people, but such concessions must be courageously and aggressively advertised. They realized that not only must their store advertising be convincing in its tone, and reassuring, but it must be impressive and reassuring in its appearance—that no retrenchment of space must appear, else that very fact would tend to increase the misgivings rather than to steady the purse-nerves of people.

In other words, the merchants determined (that is, the wise ones) that they would not only preach confidence, but would practice it.

The result has been to nullify, very largely, the evil of what started out to become a widely disastrous money-panic, and has now become chiefly a memory. It's real danger is now as far away—as far passed—as the real danger and menace of the panics of '73 and '93. In fact, the "panic of 1907" has gone to join the former ones—gone to that bourne from which, let us hope, no dead panics ever return.

And in giving advertising a rightful share of the credit for killing the scare, let us realize, too, that it must play the chief part in reconstruction, in the re-establishment of all business upon a more prosperous basis than before.

Advertising has done much for you. It will do much more!

BATTLESHIP AS A TARGET.

The "Hero," one of England's obsolete war machines, built 19 years ago, was silently towed away to the Longsands range to serve as a target for the 12-inch guns of two of England's modern battleships.

Before being fired upon white lines were painted on the "Hero's" sides, dividing up the surface into squares distinguished by letters. Fire control instruments were fitted in her and dummy figures posted where the officers in charge of instruments would have been stationed in real action. After the sacrifice, which bears witness to the awful destructive power of an up-to-date battleship, nothing remained of the brave old "Hero" but a mass of riddled iron and steel. The February Popular Mechanics contains a picture of the "Hero" under fire.

Alachua county is now in the Northern District of the United States Circuit Court (or will be as soon as the President approves the bill), and sessions of the court will hereafter be held in Gainesville.

The St. Luke's Hospital of Jacksonville in a circular letter asks for aid to maintain the institution.

The Florida State Farmers' Meeting will convene in Gainesville on February 5, 6 and 7. During this meeting speakers of State and national reputation will be present to deliver lectures on their favorite subjects. While it is not possible to cover all subjects connected with farming in the short period of time allotted, still the lecturers have the ability of bringing together in a short space of time the experience that it has taken many years to accomplish.

Mr. N. A. Callison will have present the choicest cattle from his very extensive and magnificent herd. These are probably the finest animals of the Hereford breed east of the Mississippi. A sight of these cattle alone will be worth the trip to Gainesville.

Mr. S. H. Gaitskill, who is president of the Florida Live Stock Association, has built up one of the best herds in the State, and has solved the problem of how to make a pasture unsurpassed by those in the famous Blue Grass region. The experience has cost him a great deal of time and a large sum of money, the results of which are given freely to the people of Florida.

Judge B. H. Palmer of Lake City, Florida, has consented to address the people on the Cotton Growers' Association. This association has accomplished much for the cotton growers and the plain farmers of the State. Judge Palmer has given several years of study to this work. He will be ably supported in his discussion by Prof. F. G. Schell of Lake Butler, who is secretary of the association.

Mr. G. W. Trawick has been the president of the Farmers' Union and Association in the State, which has done and is doing an exceedingly great amount of good for the farmers in uniting them and bringing them together to discuss subjects of special interest.

Colonel W. A. Harris, Ex-United States Senator, has grown up with the cattle industry in Texas. He has had years of experience in the cattle business, and has seen it grow from almost an insignificant beginning. In the early days of the cattle industry in Texas the long-horns ranged all over the territory, and it was thought impossible to produce the better beef breeds. Texas is now able to export the very finest cattle, not only to other States, but to nearly every country of the Western Hemisphere.

Secretary C. R. Thomas of the Hereford Association has represented this breed of cattle in various capacities. His ability as a judge of cattle, and a producer of fine stock, is recognized not only in the United States, but has carried him to South America.

Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the Georgia State Agricultural College, has probably stood before more agricultural audiences in the Southeastern portion of the United States than any other man. He is a splendid speaker, and has learned his subjects well by hard work in his chosen profession.

Dr. C. A. Cary, superintendent of the Farmers' Institutes of Alabama, may correctly be said to have grown up with this organization. In the early part of the organization of the Farmers' Institute in that State the difficulties seemed almost insurmountable. At the present time his audiences are numbered by the thousands. Dr. Cary has had about twenty years of experience in the State of Alabama alone, and consequently is thoroughly familiar, not only with that State, but of Florida as well.

Governor Broward is too well known to the people of Florida to need any more than a mention of his name.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and it is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Commissioner of Agriculture, very appropriately has promised to be present. It is a difficult matter for him to get away from his office, but wherever the farmers' needs call the Commissioner he is sure to be there.

Other speakers will be present, and every farmer and stockraiser who can possibly do so should attend these meetings. It will do you good.

Some of the State papers appear over-anxious for Chairman Fletcher to call a meeting of the Democratic State Committee for the purpose of arranging for the State primary. Just why these editors are so solicitous for an early primary is not plain to the public. Certainly the people generally will not be benefited thereby, and the longer Mr. Fletcher puts off convening the State committee the better it will suit the Democratic masses. The Sun repeats, "give us a short, snappy campaign."

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy, The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

SHORT STATE ITEMS

The dedication of the new city hall of Pensacola has been set for February 12th.

The Wauchula truckers are putting out the largest crop in the history of the place.

St. Augustine is making preparations for the erection of a beautiful new public school building.

A great deal of interest is being taken in trucking on Amelia Island, a suburb of Fernandina. The soil is said to be well adapted to truck growing.

The Umatilla public school building was completely destroyed by fire about 9 o'clock Tuesday night. Loss about $4,000, with an insurance of $1,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Miss Serina Allen, the young lady of Greenville who was so brutally assaulted at her home a few days ago, is dead. She never regained consciousness, and the story of assault remains a mystery.

Tarpon Springs has just suffered the most disastrous fire in the history of that town. The Atlantic Coast Line depot and the Universalist church, together with several business houses and residences, were consumed. The loss is roughly estimated at $65,000. It is reported that two Greeks perished in the flames, going into the burning building to carry out goods and escape was cut off.

JOHN DANIELS SURRENDERED.

Crap Shooter Who Made His Escape Gave Himself Up.

John Daniels, one of the gang of crap-shooters who were arrested by Marshal Arnow a few days ago, and who succeeded in making his escape by scaling a wall, running over a roof, taking an acrobatic chance by dropping to a shed fifteen feet below, has surrendered to Marshal Arnow, after hiding out for two or three days.

The defendant was arraigned before Mayor Thomas, pleaded guilty and assessed $15 and costs. The Mayor fined Daniels $5 in excess of other members of the gang, because of the fact that he escaped and gave the officers so much inconvenience.

Daniels arranged for the payment of the fine, and was released.

All the Gold IN GEORGIA Could not Buy-

Roding, Ga. August 27, 1906.
MESSRS. E. C. DEWITT & CO.,
Chicago, Ills.

Gentlemen:—
In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. Some physicians told me it was Dyspepsia, some Consumption of the Lungs, others said consumption of the Bowels. One physician said I would not live until Spring, and for four long years I existed on a little boiled milk, soda biscuits, doctors' prescriptions and Dyspepsia remedies that flooded the market. I could not digest anything I ate, and in the Spring 1902 I picked up one of your Almanacs as a poor emaciated Dyspepsia wreck will grasp at anything, and that Almanac happened to be my life saver. I bought a fifty cent bottle of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and the benefit I received from that bottle ALL THE GOLD IN GEORGIA COULD NOT BUY. I kept on taking it and in two months I went back to my work, as a machinist, and in three months I was well and hearty. I still use a little occasionally as I find it a fine blood purifier and a good tonic
May you live long and prosper.
Yours very truly,

A NEWSPAPER CANARD.

No Truth in Hattiesburg, Miss., Bank Story, Recently Published.

New York, Jan. 31.—On the morning of January 20, there was transmitted through the Associated Press service a special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune from Jackson, Miss., alleging that two expert safe burglars had made a strange confession to the president of the National bank of Hattiesburg, Miss., to the effect that he (the president in question) was a somnambulist and while walking in his sleep had unconsciously communicated to them the combination of his bank safe.

It now transpires that the whole story was an invention of some newspaper correspondent and the bank in question is fairly entitled to a correction.

Plans Greater Columbus.

Columbus, Ga., Jan. 31.—"Greater Columbus" is quite a burning local issue just now. A movement has been launched to annex the suburbs, so that Columbus will show up in the United States census for what it really is. Even if the hoped-for expansion is made, the figures will not represent commercial Columbus, for just across the Chattahoochee river are two Alabama cities of 12,000 inhabitants, who are, to all business intents, citizens of Columbus.

OLD WOUND PROVES FATAL.

Artery Breaks Loose and Columbus, Ga., Girl Bled to Death.

Columbus, Ga., Jan. 31.—Miss Rochelle McLeod, aged 16 years, died at a late hour Tuesday night at her home on North Highlands under circumstances quite pathetic.

Three weeks ago her sister was playing with an old pistol when the weapon was accidentally discharged, the ball entering Miss McLeod's jaw and ranging through the head to the neck, where it lodged. She was given surgical attention and was apparently recovering, but Tuesday night an artery that had been struck by the ball broke loose, and before surgical assistance could be secured, she had bled to death.

MADE TEMPORARY RECEIVER.

Believed Depositors of New Amsterdam Bank Will Be Paid in Full

Washington, Jan. 31.—Bank Examiner Charles A. Hanna, temporary receiver of the National Bank of North America, was Thursday appointed temporary receiver of the New Amsterdam National Bank of New York.

No statement has as yet been received as to the condition of the New Amsterdam bank, but the officials in the office of the comptroller of the currency in the absence of definite information are inclined to the belief that all depositors will be paid in full with a considerable sum remaining.

Alabaman Suicides.

Alexander City, Ala., Jan. 31.—Wednesday morning about 7 o'clock Captain J. T. Sandlin, one of the most prominent citizens of this community committed suicide at his home by a pistol shot through the head. He was one of the city councilmen and also of the firm of Coley & Sandlin, one of the most successful and well established firms in East Alabama. There were no business nor family troubles, but it is conceded that he has overworked himself until last summer, when his nerves gave way. Recently he had another nervous collapse, which seemed to affect his mind. He is thought to have gone temporarily insane. He was a Knight of Pythias and a member of the Presbyterian church.

No Statement from Wright.

Rome, Ga., Jan. 31.—Hon. Seaborn Wright, upon his return Wednesday from a trip to Baltimore, when asked for a statement with reference to the publication that he would probably be in the next race for United States senator, replied that he as yet has nothing to say on the subject. Mr. Wright has been absent from the city for some time, and went to his home immediately upon his arrival. It is thought he will make no statement until he has looked thoroughly into the political developments which took place during his absence from Georgia.

Receipts Pass 300,000 Mark.

Augusta, Ga., Jan. 31.—Augusta's cotton receipts have already passed the 300,000 mark for the year, the figures to date being 302,453, against 294,652, the inflow having taken a big spurt with the recent rise in the price above 12 cents for middling. Cotton continues to come in at the rate of a thousand bales a day, though a let up is expected now that the price has dropped again below the 12-cent mark. There is still plenty of cotton in the Augusta territory.

Old Trinity Churchyard.

There is no more dismal and hideous sight than a new graveyard full of glittering, obtrusive white monuments, square, ponderous and costly. But a burying ground which has attained a ripe age, say, a century or so, is capable of affording a distinct sensation of aesthetic pleasure. Toned and tempered by wind and weather into neutral harmony, the intrusive lettering on the stones half obliterated, there remains no ghastly funeral suggestion, but only a gentle impulse to quote Omar on the evanescence of things. Such a graveyard is the old Trinity, past which the busy crowds of Broadway and Wall street surge all day. It is a thing of beauty, though perhaps not one in a hundred of those eager faced men hurrying past ever stops to look at it or think of it. If he did, one imagines he would slacken his pace and perhaps take a half holiday. The ancient plot of ground, sown thick with low gray and brown stones and looking like a field of mushrooms, makes that human torrent rushing by seem melancholy and meaningless.—New York Globe.

KAPTEYN'S THEORY UNTENABLE.

Professor Boss, of Dudley Observatory, Regarding Star Movements.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Professor Lewis Boss, of the Dudley observatory, which is supported by the Carnegie fund, announces that he has disproved the theory that there are two streams of stars moving in opposite directions, which theory was recently promulgated by M. Kapteyn, a famous Dutch astronomer, and generally accepted by astronomers.

The Dudley observatory is the only one in the world engaged in the same work as that in which Professor Kapteyn is engaged, and is mapping all the stars visible to the naked eye and recording their movements as nearly as possible

While the work has been going on for only a year, and much more remains to be done, Professor Boss and his assistants say they have gone far enough to be able to positively prove that Kayteyn's theory is untenable.

They believe that the mistake was due to the inadequacy of the Dutch professor's equipment.

A HUMAN LOTTERY.

Minneapolis Women Indignant Over a Scheme of Theater Manager.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 31.—Incensed at what they term an "insult to motherhood," certain women in Minneapolis are banding together in an effort to compel the manager of a local theater to desist from his announced plan of giving away chances on a six-weeks-old child to all women who attend a matinee performance at the playhouse in the near future, and as a last resort declare they will attempt to secure an injunction from the court to prevent it.

The theater maintains that it is a legitimate advertising scheme in which many women who wish a child will be more than willing to participate. The baby has been provided, and if nothing happens to prevent, the human lottery will take place as outlined, the child going to the holder of the lucky number, but the indignant mothers say that the "sanctity of the American home" is at stake and they think they can stop the lottery.

Dresden, Tenn., Jan. 31.—The vault in the postoffice here was blown open with nitro-glycerine shortly after 12 o'clock Wednesday morning and robbed of $500 in stamps and $150 in cash. To Abolish City Court.

Cartersville, Ga., Jan. 31.—The majority of the Bartow county grand jury in its presentments recommended the abolishment of the city court of Cartersville, and the combination of its business with that of the superior court. The minority dissented. The city court of Cartersville is presided over by Judge A. M. Foute, with Hon. T. C. Milner, solicitor. The grand jury also recommended the abolishment of the fee system.

A FEAT IN PHOTOGRAPHY.

Daring Descent to Get a View of an Osprey's Nest.

Now commenced my work, and I descended on my rope to terrace after terrace, forcing my way through thick rows of prickly pear, a most painful operation. And now we found that there was nobody below to signal us where the nest lay. The inevitable result was that after descending more than 100 feet I had to signal to be hauled up again, always through the prickly pear. Again did I descend, and again did I fail to find the nest. On the third occasion I reached a recess in the great cliff, whence, after unbending my rope and securing it to a bush for obvious reasons, I made a cast along a ledge to the south and reached a point which I identified as being not far from the nest as seen from below. So I retraced my steps and, regaining my rope, was hauled up for a third time. During this operation I passed a ledge where a peregrine falcon was nesting. The old female swept close around with shrill cries and eventually alighted on the sandy shelf of rock within a few feet of me and, with outspread wings and every feather standing on end, lowered her head and screamed furiously. I have no doubt I was close to her young, but I had more serious work in hand, and so I left her alone.

I now made my fourth and last descent and found myself immediately over the nest, but before I could go down to it the party handling the rope had to work their way down toward me, since the rope was too short. Finally I reached the nest, an enormous mass of big sticks measuring more than five feet across and doubtless the result of many years' work. In it were two eggs much incubated. By standing on a ledge close to the nest and pressing the camera between my body and the face of the cliff I was able to take some long time exposures with fairly good results. It was near sunset, and the cliff was in deep shadow, which did not facilitate my task. Between the shaly nature of the cliff, the slippery terraces covered with loose soil and stones and the detestable prickly pears I never had a more unpleasant or arduous task on a cliff before. But I have lived to endure worse experiences, although not so painfully protracted as were these.

My very curt entry in my diary summarizes the whole job thus: "Bad shale cliffs, vertical and dangerous. Height over sea, 160 feet. Top of cliff, 310 feet. The worst bit of rope work I ever did."

With regard to the prickly pears, it was many months before the last of the poisonous spines I had collected in various parts of my body consented to come out, and then only after first festering.—London Saturday Review.

A VALID OBJECTION.

Young Sheridan's Ready Wit Saved Him a Birching.

Richard Brinsley Sheridan early evinced a genius for getting something for nothing and, seeing the door of the refectory had inadvertently been left unlocked, peeped in and saw a huge basket of grapes freshly gathered from the orchard.

Stealthily closing the door and approaching the grapes, he thus addressed them: "I publish the banns of marriage between Richard Brinsley Sheridan and these grapes. Is there any one to forbid the banns?" And, having no reply to his query, he proceeded to fill his breadbasket from the other basket with great gusto. But retribution was to follow, for on the class being reassembled the master called upon Richard Brinsley Sheridan to stand forth and joined with his name the ominous name of Walker, who was the dunce of the school and selected from his weight and size to mount the culprit upon his shoulders in order that the master might get a firm surface upon which to use the birch with effect.

Sheridan being duly mounted and appropriately denuded of superfluous raiment, the master thus addressed him: "I publish the banns of marriage between Richard Brinsley Sheridan and this birch. Is there any just cause or impediment why these two parties should not be joined in holy matrimony?'

"Hold!" yelled Sheridan.

"Well?" said the master.

To which Sheridan said, "Why, sir, the parties are not agreed!"

This being not only witty, but apt, as being a valid objection in point of law, Sheridan was requested to retire and restore himself to his former habiliments amid the uncontrollable laughter of all concerned, including the head master.—Exchange.

A Considerate Reporter.

When the Maine was blown up the wife of Lieutenant Commander Wainwright was at her home in Washington. She had heard nothing of the news when she was awakened about 4 o'clock in the morning by a violent knocking at the door of her house. Finally Mrs. Wainwright rose and looked out of the window, asking what was the matter. A voice called out, "Are you the wife of Lieutenant Commander Wainwright?" "Yes. What do you want?" "The Maine has been totally destroyed. We are reporters and wish for some information about Mr. Wainwright." Only this and nothing more. The shock caused the poor lady to fall in a dead faint, from which she did not rally for several hours; and, fortunately for her, it was then known her husband was not among the lost.

Hippophagy.

Hippophagy being in low water in these later days, somebody has set himself to show what an exceedingly respectable history attaches to the practice. Among the ancients, especially in China, eating horseflesh was general, and it was only killed in Europe by a papal decree of Gregory III., though why horseflesh should have been interdicted does not appear. It was only the famine caused by Napoleon's invasion that revived the practice in Germany, where it has survived ever since.—London Globe.

Not Broadened.

"Well, I don't know about that," replied the light woman. "My husband has been a conductor on a trolley car for seven years and see how thin he is!"—Yonkers Statesman.

BRITISH CONSOLS.

Origin and History of This Feature of English Securities.

Almost all the debt of England consists of the funded debt, so called, and the greater part of this is made up of "consols," which is an abbreviation of "consolidated stocks," of which we read every day in the papers, and the price of consols is the financial pulse of England.

Consols were created in 1752 by statute 25 of George II., chapter 27. But no scrap of paper ever represented a consol until, to facilitate commerce, in 1870 a statute was passed allowing the government to issue certificates to represent them. The property that all the world asked the price of every day was unrepresented by any monetary securities until 1870, and even now very few certificates have been issued.

Now, this is a consol, and this is its history: Originally some one had loaned the government £100, and the government had caused his name to be enrolled on its books as a creditor, from whom it had received that amount and to whom some day it might, if it chose, repay it. It need never do so, but until it did it must pay him an annuity of £3—that is, he received 3 per cent on his money as long as the government chose to keep it, but the government could pay it back at any time it chose to do so. This creditor then owned a consol—that is, he owned such a debt from the government as just described.

If he wished to transfer what rights he had—that is, his 3 per cent per annum—and the right to his £100 when, if ever, the government chose to return it, he could go to the Bank of England with his transferee and receive the purchase price from him, and the stock would be transferred to the man paying the consideration, and that man's name would be placed on the government's book in the place of the former owner, and thereafter the transferee would receive the £3 a year and the £100, if it was ever paid back. But no paper passed except the receipt for the purchase money which was given by the buyer and which the bank official checked with a red mark.

These receipts were not certificates of ownership and were seldom preserved, never except for purposes of identification when the new owner went to draw his first dividend. After that they were destroyed. It is true in old times the owner of a consol was given a tally, which was nothing but a block of wood with notches on it split in two so that a portion of each notch should be on each half, and the government kept one half and the owner of the stock the other.

These showed the state of the account between the government and its creditor, but this was an antiquated system of keeping accounts, brought down from the days when writing was little known, and at last they were abolished by act of parliament and burned. There were so many of them that when they were thrown into the furnaces these became superheated, and the parliament houses burned down, which perhaps served the authorities right for keeping the antiquated system so long.

A JAPANESE TOILET.

The Demure Brown Maiden in Her Holiday Attire.

The Japanese college girl entertained the fudge party with oriental reminiscences.

"On every holiday," she said, "the Japanese maiden must rise and have her toilet finished before the sun looks over Fujiyama, our sacred mountain.

"And what a toilet! The long, coarse black tresses are washed, combed and greased till the head shines like a knob of polished black marble. The cheeks are rouged a fine pink. The throat, neck and bosom are powdered, but at the nape of the neck there are left three lines of the original brown skin, in accordance with the rules of Japanese cosmetic art.

"With charcoal she rounds and lengthens her eyebrows. She reddens her lips with cherry paste, adding a gilt diamond to the center of the pouting lower lip. She puts on eight fresh garments, and she ties her obi, or great sash, in a symbolical knot. Her socks—she doesn't wear stockings—are very white and pure, and her clogs are lacquered till they shine like a silk hat.

"Now she is ready to set out. She fills her silk tobacco pouch, thrusts her pipe in her girdle, puts six paper handkerchiefs up her wide sleeve and sallies forth, turning her toes in and waving her fan with a demure grace."—Los Angeles Times.

Fluency of Speech.

The common fluency of speech in many men and most women is owing to a scarcity of matter and a scarcity of words, for whoever is a master of language and hath a mind full of ideas will be apt in speaking to hesitate upon the choice of both, whereas common speakers have only one set of ideas and one set of words to clothe them in, and these are always ready at the mouth, so people come faster out of church when it is almost empty than when a crowd is at the door.—Bishop Wilkins.

A PERSIAN SERVANT.

He Was Poetical Even if Useless and Dishonest.

In one way Persia reminds one dimly of England, for there are such things as difficulties with servants even in Teheran. The author dismissed one of his servants, who, as he had been a tailor, was incompetent to do anything but sew on buttons. The man protested, "What will become of me now that I have been eating your salt for such a long time and am driven out into the streets?" He was reminded that he had only been employed for a fortnight. He answered that he felt it had been for years. He was told that he was no good, but his volubility only increased. "How can I be no good after having stayed with you? Can you forget what Sa'di said: 'A piece of clay having fallen into the Hammam from my beloved's hand into mine, I said to it, Art thou musk or ambergris that I am drunk with thy perfume, which catches at the heart?' It answered: 'I was but a worthless piece of clay, but I was in company with a rose for a moment. This companionship transformed me or else I should still be the same piece of clay that I was.'"

One can pity the state of an English mistress confronted with such an argument. The author kept his servant another week, and he remarks disconsolately that in that time he discovered that if the tailor was a poet he was also a thief.—London Globe.

ADVERTISING.

The Mightiest Factor in the Modern Business World.

"Advertising is today the mightiest factor in the business world," writes Truman A. De Weese in System, the Magazine of Business. "It is an evolution of modern industrial competition. It is a business builder, with a potency that goes beyond human desire. It is something more than a 'drummer' knocking at the door of the consumer, something more than mere salesmanship on paper.

"Advertising is a positive creative force in business. It builds factories, skyscrapers and railroads. It makes two blades of grass grow in the business world where only one grew before. It multiplies human wants and intensifies desires. The result is that it forces man to greater consumption, hence stimulates his production to keep up with his buying desires.

"Before advertising was developed into a fine art and before it became a factor in the commercial world the business of the manufacturer and merchant was to supply the normal needs and desires of the human family; merchandising was bounded by man's necessities and by his meager knowledge of the luxuries which he deemed within his reach."

Hint of Untidiness.

"If you want to study human nature just try being a salesman in a department store for even a short time," said the clerk over his evening meal. "There isn't a day but I have a quiet laugh over the remarks of customers or, more frequently, would be customers. Today, for instance, I was approached by a well dressed elderly woman with the request to show her some cups and saucers. She did not want china ones—something in porcelain, for 'common everyday use,' she said. I brought out samples, and finally her choice simmered down to a plain white and the other a white with a dull grayish green figure. As if to account for her decision she said to me in a most confidential tone: 'I guess I'll take the gray ones. They won't show the dirt so soon.'"—New York Press.

Consider the Birds of the Air.

An eminent ornithologist calls attention to the fact that a crane can travel through the air a thousand miles a day without flapping its wings, but by merely keeping them stretched and adjusted to the prevailing breezes. A hawk can stay in the air for days and weeks, moving with its wings motionless. It is the same with the gulls and numerous other winged creatures. In studying the science of aerostatics consider the birds of the air.—Boston Herald.
